LINDA'S — This women's clothing store has moved to 7865 Broadway, Lemon Grove, after nine years at 7931 Broadway. Linda's will be located in the former Highlander building. Mrs. Norma Leonard, co-owner, said the grand opening for the new location will be Sept. 1.

Free Books Grabbed Up

The Grossmont High School District now has 3,000 less textbooks than it did a week ago.

Half of these obsolete books were offered to the public Monday on a first come-first served basis. The books, which were thought valuable for research, disappeared within the first four hours they were available.

The other 1,500 books were sold to an eastern firm, which specializes in old textbooks, or were given to other districts.

The texts were old high school math, geology, history and English books which are no longer used in classroom study.

Former Businesswoman Is College Graduate

A former Lemon Grove businesswoman, now a grandmother, has just graduated from the College of the Dessert. She is Mrs. Elizabeth F. Roberts, who lived in Lemon Grove at 2031 Dayton Dr.

She presently operates an art gallery at Cathedral City.

Mrs. Roberts operated the Elizabeth Frances Millinery shop while in Lemon Grove. She ran for the office of treasurer of the proposed City of Lemon Grove during an incorporation try here several years ago. Had the issue of incorporation been successful, she would have been the treasurer in that she defeated other candidates.

Lemon Grove Men Honored By NAS For Suggestions

Two Lemon Grove employees at the Overhaul and Repair Department (O&R), U. S. Naval Air Station, North Island, including one who saved taxpayers $164,000, were honored in awards ceremonies at the station Aug. 10.

J. O. Hart, 8364 Golden Ave., Lemon Grove, received the O&R Reduced Operating Cost (ROC) Supervisor of the Year Award. His ideas for fixing previously unrepairable components of F4 Phantom arresting gear resulted in a validated savings of $164,000 in fiscal 1966.

Julius P. Helton, 3037 Fisher Ln., Lemon Grove, got a trophy as outstanding O&R employee. He heads a section which overhauls, repairs and modifies aircraft carrier launching and arresting equipment.

The year-old North Island O&R ROC program under which Hart was commended, has drawn nearly 1,000 ideas and suggestions leading to an estimated savings of 4¾ million dollars, of which more than two million has been validated.

The total cost reducing effort of O&R has realized more than seven million in validated savings in fiscal 1966, according to Regniald Owens, O&R cost reduction program manager. The overall effort includes the Beneficial Suggestion, Value Analysis and other smaller programs along with ROC.

Captain Richard D. Greer Jr., Commanding Officer, North Island, and Captain J. F. Daniels Jr., O&R Officer officiated.

Great Society . . . Great Mess

The Lynchburg (Va.) News editorially answered a reader who complained that the newspaper was continually against anything the Great Society was trying to do.

Explained the News:

"The Johnson Administration has made an unholy mess of everything it has tried to do. Instead of solving problems or even alleviating them, it has intensified them.

"The 'war on poverty' has been turned into a giant boondogle. The poor it was designed to help have been receiving next to nothing, whereas billions have been spent on exhorbitant salaries and mismanaged schemes which have produced little but anger and frustration.

"The 'civil rights' bills have solved nothing and have taken away more civil rights than they have attempted to secure for the few.

"The war in Vietnam continues to worsen and the price in American lives increases each week. The dollar cost keeps climbing.

"The Federal Government is being used as a blackjack to club into line those citizens and organizations which oppose the 'Great Society.'

"Crime continues to mushroom and nothing, but nothing, has been done to strengthen the laws against criminals. Just the contrary — the courts are continually interpreting the law in favor of criminals.

"The prestige of the United States has degenerated to an all-time low around the world, especially among our so-called friends.

Af the same time, the Johnson Administration attacks nations which have remained friendly to us — such as Rhodesia and the Republic of South Africa — because of pressure put on it by ethnic and racial pressure groups in this country.

"But these are specific programs and hence, specific reasons for opposing the 'Great Society.'

"What we are really concerned about is the attitude of the Administration that the Federal Government can best solve all the problems of the people. It is a Socialistic idea and this is a Socialistic government.

"Socialism is not just a specific economic program for a country. It is an idea, an attitude that can be summarized as 'share the wealth.' In such a society the best of a race work to support the least. The President has expressed this idea as 'taking from the haves and giving it to the have-nots.'

"Every major domestic program he has proposed to Congress is based on this idea, and seeks to cary it out — with this one, all important, typically Johnsonian qualification:

Each one of these programs, from the 'war on poverty' to foreign aid, benefits most those big businesses and industries which control the wealth and power. They are permitted to make huge profits from Federal programs — as long as they support the Great Society and do its bidding. The big industries make billions out of the foreign aid program. Business, big business, makes huge profits from the 'war' on poverty. Meanwhile, the Federal Government consolidates and increases its power over the people though 'aid' to education, and usurping the people's rights to determine how their lgislatures shall be apportioned and qualifications for voting.

"Think about it for a moment: What problem confronting the Nation has this Administration solved, or even alleviated?

The Nation is going deeper into debt each day. Its merchant marine is dwindling, its military defenses are becoming antiquated in comparison to those of its enemies, its alliances such as NATO are crumbling, and it is still bogged down in a land war in Asia. Mobs still roam the streets and highways and riots are becoming commonplace. The problems of the nation's cities continue to escalate. The Federal Government continues to grow. And the dollar in the working man's paycheck buys less each month . . . "

We've thought these thoughts. How we wish we had said them first.

That's What They Want — Blood

Beginning Oct. 6 you will be "betting your blood" the minute you drive onto any of the state's highways.

There are those who will argue that such is the case right now what with a steady increase in the number of freeway wrecks.

But what we have in mind is the new blood test law which becomes effective Oct. 6.

The new law, State Bill 3, by Sen. Randolph Collier, a Democrat of Yreka, requires that "any person who drives a motor vehicle upon a highway shall be deemed to have given

GOP Official Blasts Cranston, Coate

Charles Soderstrom, Chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Los Angeles County has leveled a blast at Allan Cranston, incumbent Democrat Controller, and State Democratic Chairman, Robert L. Coate.

"Coate and Cranston have apparently been chosen by Governor Brown to head the Scurrilous Crony Committee running his campaign for governor. The other day, Cranston led off with an alleged report on right-wing extremism. This seems an odd and dangerous set of allegations from a man who was the founder and first president of the California Democratic Council, for months.

The CDC has espoused a number of highly questionable causes, among them the admission of Red China to the United Nations, the abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

"Many moderate Democrats have detached themselves from the CDC and have not sought their endorsement. At their convention in Bakersfield in February, the name of President Johnson was booed and a resolution was passed asking for the University of California an organization which Brown has been tippy-toeing around Regents to intervene to seek dismissal of criminal charges against the demonstrators arrested in the campus rioting.

"In the light of this hooligan history, it does seem odd that Cranston can find so few examples of left-wing extremism to include in his report. Cranston has been what amounts to the Democrats' all-purpose hatchet man for years. If he has any honest concern for the inroads made by extremism, it seems odd that his hatchet only cuts one way.

"More recently, it was Coate's same near-libelous litany. The voters will not be fooled by the Scurrilous Crony Committee and their desperate effort to prop Pat Brown up with a lot of phony issues.

Serious Problems

"The voters would like some action taken on the mess on the Berkeley campus the soaring crime rate and the high cost of living, among other serious problems. These are the real and serious sickness of California.

"We are constantly told that the draft card burners, the sitinners and the LSD and marijuana users are a small and unimportant segment of the student body at Cal. They are undoubtedly a small segment but glossing over their presence on campus is like saying there are only a few typhoid cases.

"A recent story with a Peking date line said that the Chinese Communist Party has issued a directive ordering that the rightist elements are to be 'exposed and overthrown and their influence is to be liquidated entirely.'

"Doesn't it seem strange that the Peking government and Brown's Scurrilous Crony Committee are launched on the same project? Of course, Brown and his busy hencemen aren't Communist and it's purely coincidence that they and Peking have picked the same target.

The people of California should demand that the Governor's gang discuss real issues and real problems. Apparently, Brown won't do it himself and the Scurrilous Crony Committee plans to holler down the same old empty rain barrel."

Rescue Techniques Taught By CDC

Nineteen men received instruction in rescue techniques for team leaders at the County Civil Defense Center at Gillespie Field on Friday and were presented with certificates of completion, William B. Marty, administrative officer for civil defense announced today.

Included among those who received certificates were: Eldon E. Horton, 8841 Valencia Dr., Spring Valley; and Clifford L. Willis, 2855 Crane St., Lemon Grove.

Included in the techniques taught were the use of rope and rope tying; use of various types of stretchers including the use of a ladder as a stretcher; the various ways to carry injured persons; the care and use of ladders and many methods of rendering first aid and casualty handling.

The course is one of the regularly scheduled classes offered by the Unified San Diego County Defense and Disaster Organization. "The techniques taught provide valuable training which would be useful in either a natural or war caused disaster," Marty said.

Last week, club members viewed "Firefighting Under Riot Conditions," a movie produced by the Los Angeles Fire Department during the Watts Riots. This Friday's film also concerns the Watts Riots, but has more to do with the police action.

Chief Bob Sever and Fire Marshal Bill Orsborn of the La Mesa Fire Department presented last week's film and program.

BROKEN CAST — Signing Barbara Stilwell's cast as a measure of good luck is Deanna Swinford. Barbara, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Stilwell of 454 Felicita, Spring Valley, had dim hopes of appearing in the San Diego Civic Arts Fort Youth presentation "Seventeen" set for Aug. 26-27 in Balboa Park Bowl, after breaking her leg six weeks ago while skim boarding at the beach. However, her luck held up as the cast was removed Monday, enabling her to play the part of Mrs. Baxter in the production. Barbara is a music major at California Western Uiversity. Tickets will be available both nights at the Bowl.

Read Luke 15:1-7

"When he comes home, he calls together his friends and his neighbors, saying to them, 'Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost." (Luke 15:6, RSV).

As one walks or rides among the hills of Judea, he realizes what intense human concern Jesus was expressing in the parable of the lost sheep. The vegetation is sparce, and the hills deceptively steep and difficult to traverse. Only intense concern for the lost sheep would impel the shepherd to leave his flock grazing on the plains and go into the mountains for one sheep.

In this parable, Jesus is declaring that God cares intensely about you and me, whoever we are, wherever we are, whatever our problems. With all the resources of His person and His universe, God seeks to restore us to our high destiny as His children. He cares for us, not because we are outcasts, but because we have valuable potentials in need of being transformed by His love.

Prayer: For thy love by which we were created and for Thy love in which we are kept, we give Thee thanks, our Savior. Truly in Thee we can live and find fulfillment for our high destiny. We would flee the mountains of waywardness and follow Thee only, our Creator and our Redeemer, in whose name we pray. Amen.

Thought for the day: God is my truest friend; I will trust Him at all times.

how real is matter?

What is reality? Can the physical senses tell us? Are things really what they seem? These deeper questions come to all of us in one way or another. They deserve a perceptive, searching, and spiritually satisfying answer — one that can change people's lives. Hear "How Real Is Matter?" a public lecture by Sylvia N. 'Mind' To Be Read At Services Sun.

"Great is our Lord,, and of great power: his understanding is infinite." This well-known verse from Psalm 147 is the Golden Text for this week's Bible Lesson-Sermon on "Mind" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday.

Included among the explanatory readings from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be these lines: "Nothing is new to Spirit. Nothing can be novel to eternal Mind, the author of all things, who from all eternity knoweth His own ideas. Deity was satisfied with His work. How could He be otherwise, since the spiritual creation was the outgrowth, the emanation, of His infinite self-containment and immortal wisdom?"

CONRAD LEMON GROVE MORTUARY

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This is to thank you for your fine speech at our Chamber of Commerce installation . . . for your fine coverage in the newspaper and for the 140 good people who shared in our pot luck supper.

It was a fine meeting of old and new friends and we plan another soon and we hope to see you there again.

I should like to take this time also to thank the committee women who did the telephoning and to the men who helped set up the tables.

Again, thanks to you.

Mrs. Charlotta Phillips
Banquet Chairman
S.V. Chamber of Commerce

Dear Editor:

I was appalled to read of the chicanery practiced on that man who was so good in returning a found dog.

I am glad you gave it a large spot in your paper.

There is so much in the papers nowadays about evil and depressing aspects of life, that it renews hope when you do hear of something good. But when a good act receives the treatment this one did, it discourages anyone from attempting anything kind.

I have heard about ten such incidents the past two months and it is discouraging (to use an understatement).

This man's good faith should be noted, as should his kindness. And then he went to the extra expense of having the dog groomed. Had he (the dog) been properly leashed he probably wouldn't have been lost to start with. With such an inconsiderate careless owner, he will undoubedly be lost again.

It is too bad something can't be done to atone for the good man's treatment.

Sincerely,
Candy Walker

Bank Action At New High

Southern California economic activity advanced to an all-time high during July, beaking free of a two-month decline, it was reported today by Harold E. Holsonback, manager of Security First National Bank's College Grove Branch.

The bank's business index for July was estimated at 155.7, slightly higher than the previous record, 155.4 set in April, 1966, and 10.4 points above where the index stood in July, 1965 Holsonback said.A month ago Southland business activity stood at 154.8 (preliminary).

Department store sales exhibited the greatest strength among business index components. Bank debits eased slightly, and both real estate and construction activities continued to decline, Holsonback continued.

Employment gains in Southern California metropolitan areas continued to supersede those of the nation as a whole. In June, the latest month for which figures are available, civilian jobs totaled 4,414,800, an increase of 196,000 over June, 1965, for a gain of 4.7 per cent Holsonback noted. Nationally, over a comparable period, employment gained only 2.7 per cent.

A government check issued after the payee dies cannot be lawfully cashed by a member of the family, or by the estate administrator. Checks should be returned to the agency that issued them.

Out of the 100,000 outstanding shares of stock, shareholders of 72,314 shares accepted the exchange.

Employment Drop Smaller Than Usual

The normal July dip in total employment in California was smaller than usual despite trade disputes. Unemployment decreased less than the seasonal norm, but continued well below last year's level. This report was issued by the departments of Industrial Relations and Employment.

At 7,180,000, total civilian employment chalked up a July record and surpassed the strike-depressed level a year ago by 327,000, or 4.8 percent, according to Ernest B. Webb, director of industrial relations. The contraction of 21,000 from June was less than normally occurs at this time of year.

Strong gains from June in the manufacturing sector-including acceleration in the aeorspace industries and a seasonal upturn in canning — helped to offset part of the usual July cutback in education as schools released noncertification staff for the summer. A mid-summer lull in agriculture reduced employment in that activity, and transportation was down because of the airline strike. The return of workers after resolution of the Greyhound worl stoppage helped to counteract some of the effect of the air tie-up.

All industries except agriculture had more workers than a year ago. Manufacturing posted the major gain — 85,000 — with over two-thirds of these new jobs in aerospace industries The measurement of total employment growth from a year ago was inflated because in July, 1965, trade disputes in construction substantially lowered the employment level at that time. Construction employment was above July, 1965, only because of the work stoppage last year.

his consent to a chemical test of his blood, breath or urine, for the purposes of determining the alcoholic content of his blood if arrested for any offense allegedly committed while the person was driving a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicating liquor."

It is called the "implied consent" law and up to now the law has stood up in courts in 17 states where it is now in effect. These states have taken the position that driving on the highways is a privilege and not a right. However, the test shall be incidental to a lawful arrest and administered after the officer shall have had reasonable cause to believe that the motorist was driving while under the influence of liquor upon a highway.

The mechanics of the law are these: The motorist must be informed that his failure to submit to such a test will result in the suspension of his license for six months.

The person arrested will have his choice of a blood, urine or breath test, but only a physician, a registered nurse, or a licensed clinical laboratory technician may take blood for the test.

A person afflicted with hemophilia or a heart condition would be exempt from the blood test.

If there is a question as to the motorist's sobriety, the motorist may request a test and the officer must comply. The motorist may have a test made by an expert of his own choosing but at his own expense. The state ordered test is free.

When the motorist refuses to take the test, the arresting officer notifies the Department of Motor Vehicles and the motorist is suspended from driving. DMV is required to communicate this information to the motorist. The motorist has the right to appeal.

It's a tough, new law and perhaps it will reduce some of the slaughter on "the world's safest" freeways. If it does it may be a better control over liquor sodden drivers than anything that has been thought up until now.

Yet, a slightly discordant note creeps into all of this. Recently, in San Diego County, a man was freed after he confessed three times to having murdered his wife. He was freed because the Supreme Court holds that no person shall be forced to testify against himself. The supplying of blood by a suspect is said to be one form of testifying against. Lawmakers hold that the suspension is not the result of supplying blood, but the result of disobedience to the new law.

However, those who "impliedly consent" to the withdrawing of blood will face their own blood in court and this same blood will be used to convict him.

SD Saline Water Test Facility Site Preparation Under Way

Site preparation of the San Diego Saline Water Test Facility is underway today following groundbreaking ceremonies at the San Diego Gas & Electric Company's South Bay power plant.

Onsite structural work of the first unit of the test facility will be started in November. This unit will be known as the Senator Clair Engle Desalting Plant, named in honor of the late U. S. Senator from California. It is scheduled to go into operation in May of 1967.

J. F. Sinnott, president of the San Diego Gas & Electric Company, welcomed dignitaries and an estimated 350 guests who attended the groundbreaking Wednesday.

"The company has for many years felt that sea water conversion facilities of the flash-evaporator type could be economically be associated with power plants and that its South Bay power plant would be ideal for a test installation to confirm this theory," Sinnott told the gathering.

He cited the "real breakthrough" by company engineers as "the determination of means of modifying existing steam turbines to obtain low-cost, by-product steam and still maintain the capability of the unit so modified." SDG&E will modify its No. 3 generating unit for usage by the test facility.

"Information gathered here will point the way to future plants throughout the United States," he added.

First shovelsful of earth were turned by Secretary of the Interior Steward L. Udall, Governor Edmund G. Brown, and Mrs. Clair Engle. The late Senator Engle was a strong supporter of water resource conservation and development. It was he who introduced the Congressional bill which created the Office of Saline Water.

"No one today can predict the magnitude of the eventual role desalting will play in providing incremental sources of fresh water for home and factory — and, someday — even for agriculture," Udall said.

Governor Brown stated, "The facilities in San Diego promise significant technological contributions toward the day when major desalters will join our reservoirs, aqueducts, and pumping plants in meeting the needs of Californians."

Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin was master of ceremonies. Other program participants included Mayor Frank Curran of San Diego and Mayor Robert McAllister of Chula Vista.

Lt. Gov. Candidate Asks 8-Year Terms For UC Regents

"Terms of the members of the Board of Regents of the University of California should be changed from the present 16 years to 8 years," Robert Finch, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, said Tuesday. "This would take politics out of the University of California and provide fresh blood, fre h ideas, and a better geographical balance for this important body.

"The people of California have heard self-righteous statements from Governor Brown about the necessity of keeping politics out of the operation of the University of California, yet he has been the worst violator of the precept," Finch charged.

To illustrate the importance of the Governor's influence, Finch noted that 10 of the present 16 members of the Board of Regents are Brown appointees. By virtue of his office, Brown is a member and president of the board. His Lieutenant Governor and another Brown appointee, the president of the State Board of Agriculture, gives the Governor a majority of the Board.

"Three Brown - appointed members of the Board of Regents are not even residents of California, spending more than half their time in Washington, D. C.

"One regent, Fredrick G. Dutton, is currently serving as campaign director for Brown's attempt at a third term in Sacramento, and has ignored repeated suggestions that he resign as a regent since he is taking the key role in Brown's campaign.

"Another regent, William K. Coblentz of San Francisco, has been involved in organizing teachers and professors of the university system to campaign for Brown. DeWitt Higgs of San Diego, an appointee Brown named to the Board of Regents this spring, was identified with a fund-raising dinner for Brown recently.

"The worst instance of playing politics with the regents to gain political support is the strange case of Cornelius J. Haggerty," Finch said.

Labor Official

"Haggerty lives in Washington, D. C., where he serves as president of the AFL-CIO construction trades department. He is 72 years of age. He has not attended a meeting of the regents since June 1965, yet when his term expired this year Gov. Brown injected blatant political considerations into the Board of Regents.

"He appointed Edward W. Carter to a new 16-year term, and then re-appointed Haggerty to fill out the 2 years which remained of Carter's term.

"Considering his lack of interest and inability to attend meetings from his home in Washington, it is difficult to see what contribution Haggerty can make to our great university, other than helping Brown in his campaign," Finch charged.

"This obvious appeal to organized labor is too thinly disguised to fool the electorate into thinking the cause of higher education is being advanced in California by this appointment," Finch said.

"Reducing the present 16-year terms for regents to 8 years should improve attendance at meetings, insure stronger voices on the part of the regents while reducing political control and more currently reflect public needs and attitudes regarding the university.

"It would also give regions of the state which have not been represented a voice in the university's affairs. At the present time Los Angeles County has 6 representatives, San Francisco area has 3, Washington, D. C. has 3, and Redding, San Diego, Fullerton and Riverside one each. It would be better to have persons living in California on this board, rather than to have 3 regents from Washington.

New Branch

"Looking toward the day that the San Joaquin Valley will have a branch of the university, consideration should be given to appointments from that area," Finch added.

The Republican standard-bearer also said that expanding the Board of Regents from the present 16 appointed members to 20 members might be a future consideration to keep pace with the expansion of the university.

Irish Join Surf World

Ireland is a late entry in the third World Surfing Championships at San Diego Sept. 26-Oct. 2.

This was announced today by Brennan McClelland, chairman of the nationally-televised competition that is the Olympic games of the fast-growing ocean sport.

McClelland said he received an application from Kevin Cavey, president of the Bray (Ireland) Surf Club. Cavey of Dublin wrote:

"We Irish surfers may be small in number but we promise to exhibit plenty of fine Irish spirit. We'll be there with all flags flying."

McClelland said the championships board of directors approved a two man team from Ireland in Group Three of the competition. Group Three also includes Puerto Rico, Mexico, Brazil and Japan.

The championships are divided in groups according to surfing strength. In the Major Group One entries are Hawaii, Peru, Australia and the East and West Coasts of the United States.

McClelland said the Irish team will pick two of the 70 members of the Bray Club. Surfing was introduced in Ireland just a few years ago by Irishmen who had visited Hawaii on holiday.

"The Irish team may not be in strong contention for the men's title — but we'll still be happy to have them represented as a fledgling surfing country," commented chairman McClelland.

In second place is Lake Murray Little League at 4-1 followed by La Mesa Fire Department (4-2), American Legion (3-2) and La Mesa Jaycees (1-5).

"B" League standings show San Diego Fire on top at 6-0 followed by La Mesa Optimist (3-2), Lake Murray Kiwanis (3-3), La Mesa Post Office (3-3), La Mesa Lions (2-4) and Travelodge Corporation (0-5).

Montecito Purse Tops Caliente Race Card

Mi Belle, a three-year-old filly, headlines the list of entrants for this Sunday's mile-and-70-yard Montecito Purse at Caliente Racetrack in Tijuana.

STARTER — Mike Adamson, former Point Loma High star, will be on the mound tonight for the Alaska Goldpanners when that club visits the La Mesa Collegians for an 8 p.m. encounter in Westgate Park.

Collegians Meet Alaskans Tonight

A red-hot La Mesa Collegian baseball club will entertain the Alaska Goldpanners tonight at 8 p.m. in Westgate Park.

Preliminaries will start at 7:45 with the honoring of San Diego Padres general manager Eddie Leishman and broadcaster Al Schuss plus another supporter of amateur sports. Admission to the contest is $1 for adults and $.50 for children.

The Collegians have won six of their last eight California Collegiate Baseball League contests, and although this exhibition will not count in the official standings, the La Mesans would still love a victory as it would put them even for the year at 14-14.

Rip Downey

Tuesday night, the Collegians whacked out 11 hits and scored nine runs to rip Downey's Reds, 9-4. Cal Meier led the locals at the plate with four hits in five at-bats, including one double.

Last Sunday at Casey Stengel Field in Glendale, the Collegians blasted San Fernando Valley, 8-1, behind the four-hit pitching of Terry Williams and Rich Zinniger. Steve Radulovich's triple in the ninth scored three runs.

Tonight's starting pitcher for La Mesa will probably be right-hander Dirk Van Dyke, who has a won-loss record of 2-2. Van Dyke's earned run average is quite high but the Southwestern College player has improved of late, according to pitching coach Skip Fenn.

Lineup

Manager Hal Doerr's starting lineup will read as follows: Chris Bradford, second base; Tom Thompson, third base; Steve Radulovich, first base; Bill Homik, left field; Ralph Stewart, center field; John Gunther, right field; Dennis Forster, catcher; Cal Meier, shortstop; and the pitcher, Van Dyke.

Alaska will utilize the services of four former San Diego prep stars in its lineup.

Former Crawford High star third baseman Bob Boone, son of former major-leaguer Ray Bone, leads the team in hitting with a .386 average. A probable outfield starting berth will go to former Hoover star Pat Harrison, a .306 hitter.

Defensive Ace

Also in the outfield is Jim Nettles, a defensive ace with a .277 b.a. He attended Crawford also.

Starting hurler for coach Lyle Olsen's Goldpanners will be another San Diego prep product, Mike Adamson of Point Loma High.

Adamson holds a 6-0 record with an e.r.a. of 1.82, lowest on the Goldpanners staff.

The Goldpanners are a NCAA-sanctioned summer baseball team. They will have a 39-10 record going into tonight's contest. From here they will travel to Honolulu, Hawaii, to participate in the first World Amateur Baseball Tournament, sponsored by the United States Baseball Federation.

The Collegians return to CBL action Friday night with a contest against Escondido at Felix High. Sunday night, La Mesa plays Long Beach there.

Movie Makers

The La Mesa Movie Makers will present a lesson in movie making at their regular meeting Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. in Porter Hall, 8425 University Ave.

The public is invited to the free program.

Economic activity in California is expected to rise further during the second half of 1966, although the rate of expansion may be slightly slower than in the first half.

"Pushaway" — First Step of Four Step Delivery

2nd of Seven Articles

You are in your stance position ready to take your first step of your four step delivery which is called the "pushaway." I like to call the pushaway the "point of no return" because if you make a mistake in the pushaway it is unlikely that your succeeding steps will result in proper timing when you release the ball.

The first step is taken with the right foot and is the beginning of a closely knit chain of movements leading up to the release. With this first step there must be a coordinate movement of the ball. The ball must be pushed away; that is, pushed out from the body slightly on a downward angle. It cannot be stressed too often that this pushaway must be simultaneous with the movement of the right foot in a smooth, fashion; I caution you not to thrust the ball out, but rather move it gently at the same speed that you take your first step.

Patterson, Johnson Big In County Plans

The County All-Stars will seek to break a two-game losing streak in the Breiatbard Athletic Foundation's College Prep All-Star Game when the 18th annual event is held Wednesday night in Balboa Stadium.

Kickoff is set for 8 p.m. with tickets priced at $3 and $1.50.

Probable starters for the County include two Mount Miguel High standouts from the 1965 season, tackle Ken Patterson and fullback Wally Johnson.

Patterson at 6-4 and 250 pounds has two inches and 15 pounds over any other County lineman. He was named to the All-Grossmont League team this past season.

Johnson was the league's "Player of the Year" and also earned a berth on the San Diego CIF's first team. He plays both fullback and linebacker.

Helix High grads who appear to have good chances for a starting berth are 6-4 end John Ugrin and center Greg McLandrich.

Other Grossmont Leaguers who figure prominently in coach Vern Brizendine's plans are Grossmont tackles Anthony Fares and Randy Gold. Granite Hills' two-time All-CIF guard Alex Garcia and Crossmon halfback Larry Hancock.

The County roster also lists CIF "Player of the Year" Dan Hustead, a halfback from Escondido; and All-CIF quarterback Bill Miller of Castle Park.

The City All-Stars boast All-CIF first team selections end Marvin Galliher of Lincoln, tackle Pete Seymour of La Jolla, center Richard Oberreuter of Kearny and fullback Humphrey Covington of Lincoln.

City All-Stars have won the first two contests, 20-0 and 19-0.

Azure Te To Make Debut

Speed will be the order of the day Saturday when the swiftest sprinters in the West tangle over six furlongs in the 21st running of the 15,000 added Bing Crosby Handicap, weekend headliner " where the turf meets the surf."

Always one of Del Mar's most thrilling contests, this edition of the Bing Crosby Handicap figures to be especially engrossing. Expected to go in the race which honors one of the founders of this colorful seaside course are such speed-burners as Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Shapiro's Azure Te, Bingamam and Gheen's Chiclero and Mrs. Walter H .Davis' Emphil's Lodge.

Azure Te, exceptionally swift son of Nashville, will be making his seasonal debut in the Crosby Cap. The fleet four-year-old colt has been somewhat unlucky in previous Del Mar stakes appearancees, finishing second to Terry's Secret in the Del Mar Futurity as a two-year-old in '64 and last summer being nosed out by lightly-regarded stablemate Mr. Payne in a division of the Oceanside Handicap.

Chiclero and Emphil's Lodge already have notched impressive sprint triumphs this summer, the later boasting a pair of victories in t he identical time of 1:09 1/5 for six furlongs. Chiclero, victor in the at Hollywood Park, scored his victory in 1:09 3/5.

Other prominent prospects for the Bing Crosby 'Cap are Laraine Flodine's Zooron, Walter S. Markham's Adopted, Nelson and Roundtree's Armed Knight, Schulman, Goldman and Levinson's much-improved Traveling Dust and Kerr Stable's Royal Adventure.

In 1962, the Crosby 'Cap provided the showcase for Crazy Kid's world's record performance of 1:07 4/5, a mark which has yet to be bettered and has been equalled only once.

San Diego Cup Races Set For Hydroplanes

The largest crowd ever to watch an aquatic sport in Southern California is expected for the third annual unlimited hydroplane races which will be run from Sept. 22-25 in Mission Bay Park.

"The San Diego Cup Race for unlimited hydroplanes is becoming one of the top sporting events in the West," said general chairman Paul Strombeck. "We are planning for the largest crowd and the most exciting races to be held here yet."

More than 70,000 people viewed the races last year, he said.

At least 15 of the nation's top boats and drivers are expected to compete.

New Records

"The intense competition spirit in this sport and the constantly improving performance of the nation's finest hydroplane should result in new speed records here this year," Strombeck said.

"We expect a large field of entries despite recent fatalities to some of the sport's finest drivers and boats," he added. "The 1966 San Diego Cup should be one of the year's real headliners in the world of sports."

Several world records were logged by the roaring roostertails here last year. The late Ron Musson, one of three famous drivers killed in crashes at Washington, D. C. earlier this year, drove Miss Bardahl to a new world record of 117.87 miles an hour on the Mission Bay sea track.

Fast Course

These records gave Mission Bay the nation's largest aquatic playground, the right to be called the world's fastest hydroplane course.

Trial races will be held Sept. 20-24, with the finals scheduled for the 25th.

Mission Bay Associates, sponsors of this thrilling sports headliner, today announced names of the complete 1966 race committee.

Ray Fageol and Robert Higgins will be concultants to general chairman Strombeck.

Race Chairmen

Wally Featheringill is race chairman, Harry Sherwood entertainment chairman and Kay Ready hospitality chairman. Reg Bennett will be in charge of promotion and Wally Vine in charge of ways and means. Herb Billings will serve as chairman of the parking and admissions committee.

"The San Diego cup races have won the enthusiastic support of the nation's leading hydroplane owners and drivers in just three years time," Strombeck said. "This race has put the name of San Diego on sports pages and sports screens all over the country. The 1966 event should be the biggest yet; more records, more thrills, more people."

Top Mexican Matador To Fight Sunday In Tijuana Bullring

Two young bullfighting stars, whose success here recently has earned them a return appearance, will compete with Mexico's number one matador Sunday at 4 p.m. in Tijuana's El Toreo bullring.

Youngsters Manuel (Armillita) Espinosa and Alfonso (Caleserito) Ramirez will vie with veteran Manuel Capetillo, known as the world's greatest artist with the small cape.

Both newcomers are sons of famous retired matadors of Mexico who used the same nicknames in the ring. Espinosa's father is a great of the 1940's, while the senior Ramirez retired last year after more than 30 years as a matador.

In his debut July 30, Caleserito showed classic style with cape and muleta. Armillita won an ear from each of his bulls his first time out Aug. 7, showing the poise and control of a master.

Capetillo, a matador since 1948, recently affirmed his standing as his country's top attraction and ring personality. In his first showing locally this summer, Capetillo won a pair of ears for a display of his unique cape artistry.

Santo Domingo bulls, carrying the blood of the deadly Miura strain from Spain, will be featured.

A goring suffered by Emilio Rodriguez last Sunday turned the afternoon's performance into a duel between Mauro Liceage and Rafael (Chito) Munoz.

Rodriguez received a puncture wound in the chest from the day's first bull. Plaza doctors said the wound was not serious.

A crowd of more than 7,000 persons cheered as Liceage won two ears for a flashy fight to his second bull. Munoz earned an ear from the day's final bull with classic capework and a one-thrust kill.

Vance Butler of El Cajon dropped to second with Lemon Grove's Jim Hitt third. The latter driver will be returning to the track this week with the 427-cubic inch-powered Ford of Marck Motors.

Hitt wrecked his own car several races ago.

Over 60 Super Stocks will begin qualifying at 6:30 p.m. with the trophy dash starting regular competition at 8:15 p.m. There are eight events on the program topped by the 30-lap main event.

'Superstition' Charms San Diego Dragway Fans

"Superstition," the Travis and Killalea injected Chevrolet fueler from Lemon Grove captured the number one Top Eliminator spot Saturday night at the San Diego Dragway at Ramona.

An elapsed time of 8:60 seconds at 175.78 mph vaulted the machine to its fifth Top Eliminator crown in the past six weeks at the Ramona track. Jim Heck's super charged Chevrolet gas dragster from San Diego placed runner up with a e.t. of 9.05 seconds at 166.97mph.

The featured match race of the evening — Randy Wall's "Super Nova" versus Clyde Wilson and his "Willie's Pie Wagon" — was postponed. The Walls funny car, a 396 blown and injected '65 Chevy II fueler, suffered transmission difficulties early in the evening and was unable to compete. Not to be without a match, Wilson, the dragway's honorary mayor, took on the Borchart and Roberts injected Chevrolet fuel dragster. The "Pie Wagon," with an e.t. of 9.75 seconds at 150.75 mph, was clipped by the "Blue Light," which posted an e.t. of 9.53 at 160.14 mph.

Another notable victory Saturday night at Ramona was the Bob James' capture of the Top Bike title for the fourth straight week. His '58 Harley achieved an e.t. of 12.36 seconds at 103.50 mph.

Walls returns Saturday night to meet Richard Schroeder of Los Angeles and his "Bad Bossa Nova." It will be a real San Diego/Los Angeles funny car feud as our area's only car of this type meets the spectacular wheel standing Schroeders machine.

On Sunday, sports car fans will be in for a special treat as the Ramona track stages an Asebring Slalom event. Registration and technical inspection opens at 9:30 a.m. Helmets and seat belts are required, and open exhausts will be permitted.

RAMBLIN'

WITH ED LOOP

Several times lately we have considered removing the lemon tree planter in front of our store because it is getting to be just a trash receptacle for passers-by. Aside from bits and pieces of paper, gum and candy wrappers, king-size Coke cartons, we have found half eaten donuts, hamburgers, chicken legs, pastrami, 7-Up bottle, whiskey, gin and vodka botles, and empty six-packs of beer. This morning a quart can of motor oil was gracefully hanging from a tree branch and draining the oil dregs into the planter. There are several families of crickets living in that planter and they are getting PRETTY tired of all the trash they are being forced to live with. Cut it out, will you, whoever you are?

Former L.G. Store To Open In Center

Marsi's, largest locally-owned women's wear specialty chain in San Diego County, will open a sixth store in the College Grove Shopping Center, it was announced today by Sidney R. Silverman, president.

The new store is scheduled to open early in December and will feature merchandise devoted to the California casual way of life. Architects for the new addition to the Marsi's chain are Mayer and Kanner, A.I.A.

The new Marsi's store will have 5,000 square feet of selling space, with an additional 2,000 square feet of stock area. It will employ approximately 18 people.

Marsi's now has five stores in the county. The parent store and general offices are in El Cajon, with two stores in the Grossmont Shopping Center and one each in the Chula Vista Shopping Center and La Jolla. At one time a Marsi's store was located on Broadway in Lemon Grove.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Brookside Tests Show Bacteria Count High

Dear Editor:

You requested a brief summary of our findings. In an honest effort to oblige you we have composed the enclosed fact sheet.

Our reports total five pages in all and there are over 20 certified tests by reputable labs. The Health Department's reports total seven pages and I believe your paper has summarized them. Therefore, we shall not attempt to add or detract anything that they have stated. We are sure that if the Health Department would run a series of tests similar to ours they would find the same results.

Thus, in accordance with your desire for brevity, we have limited our comments to the "Fact Sheet" and the statement: The Brookside Mothers' Committee has had tests at both the site of the Fairway Drive Channel and at the Sweetwater Road. These tests were done by reputable labs and the results certified. These results have far exceeded the norms listed on the fact sheet and may produce anywhere from 5-14 diseases.

We would like to thank you for your interest.

Sincerely,
Diane Klostermeier
President Brookside
Mothers' Committee

Home, Schools Must Teach Responsibility, Citizenship

Education News Service

Much talk is heard nowadays about individual responsibility and good citizenship and the need for teaching them to young people. There is little agreement, however, as to whose job it is. The home? The schools? or both? And how is it to be done?

Dr. Paul Popenoe, founder and administrator of the American Institute of Family Relations in Los Angeles, has come up with some incisive answers.

It's primarily a job for the home, but with an assist from the schools, he says.

"If parents have taught their own children to be irresponsible, the school has no machinery adequate to undo their mistakes."

Dr. Popenoe admits the home faces serious difficulties.

Few Chores

For one thing, most children come from city homes, and the city home, he says, places little responsibility on children. They're given few chores. Their parents are often over-protective and over-possessive.

Secondly, school patterns "frequently do not promote responsibility — they are too authoritarian." And in school as at home, boys are handicapped by having too few masculine patterns. They are largely under the control of women — first mothers, then women teachers. "As adults, the boys may fail to play a man's part in life because they have never been shown what a man's part is," says Dr. Popenoe.

Third, in the social life of young people, they have too little responsibility, and especially is this true of boys, since social life at that age is largely controlled by girls and their mothers.

Early Beginning

What's neded? Here is Dr. Popenoe's prescription: "An educational program — which will accustom children to accept reasonable responsibility from infancy onward."

How to go about it? He makes these suggestions:

First, more work for children in the home. "Mothers," he says, will have to stop monopolizing the jobs (especially the enjoyable ones such as making all the family purchases) and let the children gradually supplant them.

Second, schools must become more family-minded. "This requires more adequate teaching of family relations (many children now get none whatever)."

Third, help young people get more involved with "the actual work of the world. There are plenty of wrongs to be righted, but young people should be helped not merely to condemn the existing social order as a whole, but to pick out one feature of it at a time that they think should be improved, and then work actively and constructively (under skilled leadership) to improve this feature."

Social Life

Fourth, every effort should be made to persuade young people to accept more responsibility for the welfare of others in their own group, "as, for instance, by maintaining a less snobbish and more wholesome social life."

Fifth, and finally, young people can be helped to develop responsibility if their own parents set them a good example.

"If the home is merely a 'filling station' or a correctional institution," concludes Dr. Poponoe, "it cannot turn out good citizens. If the American way of life is threatened at the present time, this threat cannot be removed by salutes to the flag and by compulsory oaths of allegiance, but by rearing children in homes where there is a proper balance between privileges and responsibilities, every increase of the one involving a corresponding increase of the other."

LT. GOV. ANDERSON

The State Department of Water Resources is halfway through a decade of construction on the expansive, imaginative State Water Project, Lt. Governor Glenn Anderson said today in a special news release.

"As the largest single water development program ever undertaken, the State Water Project will conserve 4.23 million acre-feet of water each year and transport it for delivery to two-thirds of California's millions.

"The embankment of the giant Oroville Dam, key conservation unit of the project, is nearly 65 percent complete and construction is ahead of schedule.

Water will be available to parts of Kern and Kings Counties in 1968; to Castaic reservoir, north of Los Angeles, in 1971, and to Perris reservoir south of Riverside in 1972.

"The greatest, single barrier to transporting surplus water from the north to the arid south is the Tehachapi mountains. To cross this barrier requires a pumping plant of unprecedented magnitude and nearly 12 miles of tunnels, pipelines and siphons. Construction work on nearly all phases of the Tehachapi Crossing is scheduled to be underway within the next few months.

"At the base of the mountainous barrier the Department of Water Resources will build the Tehachapi Pumping Plant to lift more water higher than any other pumping plant in the world. The pumping plant will lift 110 million gallons of water per hour one-third of a mile up from the valley floor and will do it in a single lift."

Wadie Deddeh

A complete study of California's state welfare program has been demanded of Gov. Pat Brown by Chula Vista Democratic assembly candidate Wadie Deddeh.

"I am suggesting to the governor in a letter this week that he form a blue ribbon, non-partisan committee to investigate the welfare program from top to bottom in the state and the administering counties," Deddeh said.

Deddeh strongly recommended the California League of Women Voters to conduct the study.

"I will espouse legislation based completely on the findings and recommendations of the thorough study by the highly respected, non-partisan League of Women Voters," Deddeh said.

Unhappiness is widespread on a number of particulars about the welfare program throughout the 77th Assembly District, the candidate said.

CONGRESSMAN UTT

Congressman James B. Utt (R-Calif.) has announced that he would oppose enactment of any bill that would cripple the system of collective bargaining in connection with the current airline strike.

In a statement released, Representative Utt warned that enactment of proposed legislation would set a precedent that would result in Congress being forced to resolve all major labor disputes.

Voting Registration

September 15 is the last day to register to be eligible to vote in the November general election, says Mrs. Charlotta Phillips, deputy registrar of voters, living in the Spring Valley area. For full particulars, phone Mrs. Phillips at 466-4209.
